

Answers
People who live in villages often	...need to travel to nearby towns.
Cities have larger populations	...which can support more services
A town can support more	...services than a village.
The services in a town would be	...used by many surrounding villages.
Some services are very specialised	...and only found in large cities