

Detective Deduction Activity Sheet

As soon as I woke up, I knew something was different; the glow in my room gave the game away. I jumped out of bed (not something I often do) and rushed to draw back the curtains despite the coldness. The sight that met my eyes was extraordinary – everything gleamed and looked so clean. I couldn't contain my excitement as a squeal left my mouth. Judy came rushing into my room, "What's wrong Jasmine? Are you ok?" Then she noticed the bright, white world below and the joy burst out of her like a room of popping balloons. "No school today! No school today!" we screamed.

1. What made the narrator jump out of bed? Tick one.

- the sound of her sister screaming
- the coldness
- the glow in her room
- she was going to school

2. Why did Judy rush into Jasmine's room? Tick one.

- she needed to get ready for school
- she heard her squeal
- she was cold
- she noticed the white world below

3. Why would there be "No school today!"? Tick one.

- because it was too cold
- because they were ill
- because it had snowed
- because it was the holidays

Detective Deduction Answers

As soon as I woke up, I knew something was different; the glow in my room gave the game away. I jumped out of bed (not something I often do) and rushed to draw back the curtains despite the coldness. The sight that met my eyes was extraordinary – everything gleamed and looked so clean. I couldn't contain my excitement as a squeal left my mouth. Judy came rushing into my room, "What's wrong Jasmine? Are you ok?" Then she noticed the bright, white world below and the joy burst out of her like a room of popping balloons. "No school today! No school today!" we screamed.

1. What made the narrator jump out of bed? Tick one.

- the sound of her sister screaming
- the coldness
- the glow in her room
- she was going to school

2. Why did Judy rush into Jasmine's room? Tick one.

- she needed to get ready for school
- she heard her squeal
- she was cold
- she noticed the white world below

3. Why would there be "No school today!"? Tick one.

- because it was too cold
- because they were ill
- because it had snowed
- because it was the holidays