

The Greatest Show on Earth

“Round up, round up, ladies, gentlemen, boys and girls; a great hello and a splendiferous welcome to you. My name is Amza and I’ll be your gracious host for this evening. Being a showman to my very core, you know that you’re in for an evening that will thrill and excite you, if I’m the star of the show.

We have world-class acrobats, terrifyingly magnificent and fearsome animals and dancers that will amaze and excite you. If all that fails, indulge on fresh, buttery popcorn and the sugary delight of fluffy candyfloss as we entertain your cares away. For tonight, my very special chum, you will witness the greatest show on earth!”

1. If all that fails, indulge on fresh, buttery popcorn and the sugary delight of fluffy candyfloss...

Which words does the author use to describe the candyfloss? Tick two.

- fresh buttery

- sugary
 fluffy

2. “Round up, round up, ladies, gentlemen, boys and girls; a great hello and a splendiferous welcome to you.”

Find and copy two different words from the sentence above that greet the reader.

---

---

3. Which two words does the author use to describe what the acrobats will do to the the audience?

---

---

The Greatest Show on Earth Answer Sheet

1. If all that fails, indulge on fresh, buttery popcorn and the sugary delight of fluffy candyfloss...

Which words does the author use to describe the candyfloss? Tick two.

fresh

buttery

sugary

fluffy

2. “Round up, round up, ladies, gentlemen, boys and girls; a great hello and a splendiferous welcome to you.”

Find and copy two different words from the sentence above that greet the reader.

hello; welcome

3. Which two words does the author use to describe what the acrobats will do to the the audience?

amaze; excite