1. Aims

This remote learning policy for staff aims to:

- › Ensure consistency in the approach to remote learning for pupils who aren't in school
- › Set out expectations for all members of the school community with regards to remote learning
- › Provide appropriate guidelines for data protection

2. Roles and responsibilities

2.1 Teachers

Setting Work

Teachers in year groups are responsible for arranging a rota whereby they take turns to set remote learning activities for those pupils who cannot attend school due to self isolation, illness, year group closure or lockdown. This will be uploaded onto the school website on a weekly basis and will reflect the work covered in that particular week and some opportunities to practice more generalised skills.

These are to include:

- Spellings
- Writing activities
- Reading books on Bug Club
- Reading comprehensions
- Maths
- Times Tables practice
- Topic and Science presentations and activities
- Votes for Schools
- Music Masters
- Answer sheets for previous week's work.

In addition there may be competitions and special focus activities such as road safety for the children to access.

The website will also signpost children to additional learning opportunities on platforms such as Oak National Academy, BBC Bitesize, Purple Mash, Times Table Rock Stars and Bug Club, SATs Online, Maths is Fun, Top Marks, Twinkl, White Rose Maths, CGP Home Learning, NSPCC, Childline and Kids Geographic.

Sometimes staff will direct children to specific activities on these sites, but they will also be able to freely select any activities that interest them.

Once the work has been selected teachers will save that work into the relevant online learning file on the Staff network folder, which will then be uploaded by Hayley Thomson onto the website.

The work will need to be placed in the folder by the end of day on each Thursday so that children that will be able to access the next week's work from the weekend onwards.

For children that do not have access to electronic devices or the internet, parents are advised to contact the school, either by telephone on 01922 721092 or via support@palfrey-j.walsdall.sch.uk and we will provide a printed home learning pack.

As the work is set on a rota basis in their year group, demands on staff are fairly and evenly spread out. If one member of staff falls ill or cannot for any reason set the work, another member of the team will be required to step in. However care should be taken that the responsibility is even shared out and that colleagues are supportive and flexible.

Providing Feedback

- Teachers will get access to completed work either by electronic logs kept on platforms such as Bug Club or Purple Mash, completed work packs or home learning exercise books.
- Where work is paper based, there will be a 72 hour quarantine before the teacher will access the work.
- Feedback will be provided via the Purple Mash blog, telephone or email.
- Children can self- assess using the answer sheet uploaded each week.

Keeping in touch with pupils who aren't in school and their parents

- Weekly Safe and Well telephone calls will from school be made to ensure that children are well, accessing work and following national guidelines on self isolation. These calls are recorded in order to safeguard staff. Calls are not to be made from teachers' private phones.
- Emails will be sent into school via support@palfrey-j.walsdall.sch.uk. These will be passed on to the relevant teacher during working hours. Any emails sent by teachers to pupils will be from the general school post ox and not from teachers individual or personal email addresses.
- Any complaints or concerns regarding home learning or safeguarding should be passed on to the Heads of School, the Deputy safeguarding Lead or the SENCo, who will deal with them accordingly.
- Teachers will always encourage and help children to complete remote learning activities but there will be no sanctions placed on children who do not complete it, as we understand that there may be a variety of factors to prevent them doing so beyond either their or the school's control.
- The Staff Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use policies apply in any communications with pupils or parents.

Availability to work

- When setting remote learning, teachers must be available during their normal working hours.
- This will normally be on a rota basis in school but may be at home if self isolating.
- If a teacher is unable to work for any reason during this time, for example due to sickness or caring for a dependent, they should report this using the normal absence procedure.

2.2 Teaching assistants

When assisting with remote learning, teaching assistants must be available during their normal working hours. If they're unable to work for any reason during this time, for example due to sickness or caring for a dependent, they should report this using the normal absence procedure.

When assisting with remote learning, teaching assistants are responsible for:

- Producing any printed copies of home learning packs needed
- If pupils' homes are within easy walking distance of school, pairs of TAs may deliver home learning packs to them. However they must not enter the house.
- Specialist TAs who provide one to one support will modify any resources required so that pupils may have better access to activities set.
- Supporting teachers generally within bubbles to produce work set for home learning.
