

He saw the light.

They went high.

At night she went up.

She went with the knight.

One day a knight went past. He saw a bright light in a high tower.

She e sat on a chair and wept.

"There is no stairs and I can not get down my hair," she e said.

“Quick, jump in,” he said.

They jumped in and flew high in the night sky.

The witch held onto Rapunzel's hair to get to the high window.

That night when the witch left, the knight said
"Rapunzel let down your hair so that I may climb your golden stair."
